

I'm a resistance fighter™

Theresa Fyffe

Director, Co-Chair of the Scottish
Partnership Forum
Royal College of Nursing Scotland

Combating antimicrobial resistance (AMR)

As healthcare practitioners we have an important role to play in raising awareness in the public, colleagues, friends and family on the significant risk antimicrobial resistance poses.

I encourage patients to reach out to community pharmacists to help manage their symptoms, ensuring appropriate medicines are used to treat illness, avoiding the use of antibiotics unless they are necessary. Because all of us need to be resistance fighters.

Learn more at AntimicrobialResistanceFighters.org

